Parker,

I am not going to accept your non-responses to my questions and requests for information.

You are correct when you assume that I care about this community. To that end, I am planning to continue to expose your continuing intransigence and encourage the BID to find more qualified individual to hold the position of executive director.

If you would like to work together with me to get yourself fired, then I am very interested in hearing your ideas.

Bruce,

I already informed you that an employee who no longer works here. However, since I am the Executive Director I am the person responsible for directing staff. I hope that clarifies your question.

Perhaps it may be time to schedule another meeting. I'm not sure why you are asking these questions but I am going to assume that you care about our community. I would prefer that we find some common goals that we could work together on as it may be more productive and beneficial for our community.

Kind regards,

Lets try the question again,

When you say "we did not save any of his emails", please explain exactly who "we" refers to and who deleted
the emails.

Bruce,

No one in our office has Steve Robbins emails. I am not an IT expert, but my initial guess would be no since we changed

Bruce,

Per your question while in my office today, here is the response in writing.

Steve Robbins, the previous Executive Director, has not worked here for over one year. Upon his retirement, his email account was inactivated and we did not save any of his emails.
